Farm Bureau To Hold Meet

How many times have you said, "I wish I had a chance to tell them what I think!"

Well, you are going to get that chance. That is, if you attend the county wide Farm Bureau meeting which will be held for that purpose.

What do you think about the water issue? What do you want to do with diverted acres? How do you stand on the price support question?

A county wide meeting will be held so that Farm Bureau members will have an opportunity to hear and discuss resolutions that affect farmers and dairymen in our county. These resolutions have been drawn up by the county resolutions committee and will be presented at the state convention in November.

We want you to discuss these resolutions and we want to go to Galveston with your approval of same.

Mark the time and place on your calendar! Tuesday, October 26, in the District Court room, at 8 p. m.

Canyon voters approved a bond issue of $60,000 yesterday when 419 persons took time to go to the polls to vote. Fully 50 other persons were not eligible, presented themselves for a vote, but were rejected.

The vote was 351 for the bond issue; 67 against the bond issue, with one ballot being mutilated.

It will take about 30 days to clear paper work in connection with the bond issue before the money is received to start work on the new city park, which will be located west of the new ward school building.

Canyon has been talking about the need of a city park for 25 years, but now that the start has been made, the city has money available to build a real park. The work of planning and the bond issue was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Charles Donnell, president.

Maize Harvest Is Producing Very Fine Grain

W. H. Upchurch has closed about 50 loans on maize up to Tuesday. He states that the crop is turning out fine, with irrigated maize running around 80 bushels per acre.

Dry land maize is making a much better yield than was anticipated a few weeks ago.

The government has set the loan value of maize at $2.21 per 100 pounds, less transportation and storage of the grain. Loans this week are being made for $2.07 per hundred. There is 1 cent per 100 less storage drop in the value of maize every 10 days under the present agreement between the local elevators and storage facilities.

The quality of the grain is excellent according to reports which have come from the elevators of the county.

Mrs. Frank Cave New Consultant

The International Red Cross announced last week that Mrs. Frank E. Cave of Plainview had been named volunteer field consultant for the Panhandle, South Plains, and North Central areas of Texas for the American Red Cross. In her new position Mrs. Cave will serve in an advisory capacity to 67 Red Cross chapters in this region, particularly in the field of volunteer activities.

The new volunteer field consultant will be concerned primarily with efforts by the chapters to increase and strengthen volunteer participation in all Red Cross programs and activities.

Mrs. Cave recently completed special training in the Midwestern area office of the Red Cross in St. Louis in preparation for her new duties.

She served ten years as residential chairman of the fund drive in her home chapter of Hale County. She was active in production work in World Wars I and II and is trained in home nursing and first aid.

Mrs. Cave is a graduate of Baylor University and is a former teacher of English at Lippert's Business College in Plainview. In addition to her Red Cross volunteer activities, she has been active in civic and community affairs.

Elmer Wooten of Dumas was a visitor for Homecoming Saturday.

Haleswood Prize Holsteins Home From Show Tour

Fourteen head of prize winning show stock of the Haleswood Farm recently returned from a show tour that included showings at Dallas and Memphis, Tennessee. The Holstein herd won many honors throughout the tour but it was in Memphis where the Reserve Grand Champion had its toughest competition.

The cow is undefeated in four shows as well as in best udder class. The Memphis show, in addition to being the original Holstein show in the U. S., is one of the four of its kind in this country. There were 309 show animals present at the Memphis show in addition to the 14 Haleswood animals.

At Dallas this week the Haleswood show animals won eight first places as well as first place in the udder class. The Haleswood Farm is owned by Joe Hales and Grady Hazlewood. Joe Hales is the manager and he lives on the farm located about five miles north of Canyon on Highway 60 and 87.

Hales is a graduate of Canyon High School and Texas A & M College. He is the son of a dairyman and since his high school days has been actively engaged in programs to improve dairying.

From the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo the Haleswood show animals were taken to the Oklahoma State Fair at Tulsa. In Amarillo the animals won the awards for the Grand Champion bull and cow and the Junior Grand Champion bull and cow.

In Tulsa, the prizes included Grand Champion bull, the Junior Grand Champion female, and the Reserve Grand Champion female. At present the Haleswood farm has a total of 125 head of registered Holstein cattle.

Max Bellah Gets His Promotion

Max Bellah of Canyon has been promoted from Airman Third Class to Airman Second Class in the U. S. Air Force.

Bellah, son of Mrs. Alfred Bellah, 1219 5th Ave., Canyon, is currently assigned to Air Force Personnel and Training Research Center's Crew Research Laboratory located at Randolph AFB, Tex. Prior to entering the service he attended Canyon High School and the University of Texas.

The Air Force Personnel and Training Research Center, with Headquarters at Lackland AFB, is one of Air Research and Development Command's ten research centers, and conducts psychological research to improve methods of selecting and training men and women for Air Force assignments.

First Frost in Canyon Hits on October 14th

The first frost for the fall of 1954 has hit over a large section of Randall county.

As a result of this frost, most of the flowers and tender vegetation were killed Thursday night. A killing frost this early in the year is a little unusual, since the first killing frost usually comes around the first of November.

Gardens were hit the hardest by the freeze, with tomato vines being especially hard hit by the cold wave.

Taylor & Sons Store Looted

Unknown parties broke into the Taylor & Sons store Saturday or Sunday night. The total loss of merchandise will be very light, according to Wilford Taylor, Jr., who reported the loss to the office of Sheriff L. S. Johnston Monday. The looters were unable to break into the safe which is the large, bank variety. The door was opened Monday and none of the contents had been taken by the burglars.

It was impossible to ascertain the amount of merchandise taken, but it is estimated that the loss will be very light considering the amount of goods which might have been stolen by the culprits.

It was reported to the Sheriff's department Monday that a store in Farwell had been burglarized Saturday night by the same method used in Canyon.

Light Vote of Absentee Nov. 2

There were only six absentee ballots returned for the general election of November 2 to County Clerk Tom Lair Tuesday.

Application for ballots has been much less than usual this year, and so far all absentees have been received from persons who live in the county but are away for the present.

Three Cases Tried Monday in Court

County Judge Roy Joe Stevens had three cases in County Court Monday.

Two cases of transporting liquor were tried, one drawing a fine of $125, and the other a fine of $100. One DWI case drew a fine of $200.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pool and children of Vaughn, N. M., visited over the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Max Barnard, and other relatives and friends.

Colorful Parade Draws Many for WT Homecoming

The colorful pageantry of another Homecoming parade was enjoyed by a large number of people Saturday afternoon at 4:30. The first place winner of the college division of floats was the Sigma Phi and the second place winner was the Zeta float. Judges were reluctant to pick any because of the difficulty in selecting one over another when all were of such high quality. Winners in the high school division were the Cub Scout float and the F.H.A.

Leading the parade was Sheriff L. S. Johnston. The parade came up Third Avenue and around the square and returned down Fourth Avenue. A large number of those present were WT ex-students returning for the big barbecue and football game Saturday night between the WT Buffaloes and New Mexico A. & M.

Among those riding in the parade were the Homecoming Queen, Miss Peggy Bonds, looking lovely in her golden crown and the Football Queen, Rosemary Detton, also sparkling with gaiety.

The entire parade lasted nearly an hour and people lined both sides of the streets as the floats, bands and specialty acts streamed by. Bringing up the rear of the parade again this year was the bucking car of the Tri Taus at WT.

J. A. Young Sold Home and Moved to Lovington, N. M.

J. A. Young has sold his home in Canyon and moved to Lovington, N. M.

Mr. Young stated Friday that work in finishing his laundry building in Lovington had been delayed by bad weather, and that he would not likely get to move the machinery from the Canyon Steam Laundry before the end of the month.

E. R. Kendall of Hereford has leased the laundry building in Canyon and will assemble a new plant here to carry on the laundry business as soon as he gets possession of the building. In the meanwhile, Kendall says that he will take laundry work from Canyon to one of his other laundries in Hereford, Amarillo, or Lubbock until the new plant has been assembled and put into operation here.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hood left last Monday for Haise, Ark., to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Hood, who passed away Friday, October 15. Burial was on Saturday in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Greatest Fuss in Modern Time Due to an Innocent Dog Story

The greatest fuss of the year is over the story told by Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson. It is evident that the Secretary was not seeking to insult any person or group of persons by his remarks, but nevertheless he was quite amazed when Walter Reuther took up arms against him and demanded that the President either fire Wilson or censure him.

It is evident that President Eisenhower will do neither. He has had too hard a job to convince capable men that they should serve the nation to fire any of his works because of a story.

We are not defending Wilson. He was the head of General Motors before accepting his present job. He is too big a man, and too valuable to the nation to be fired, even should he have had in mind some of the CIO members, whom Reuther claims have been grossly insulted by the story.

We have no quarrel with Wilson for having made the statement; or with Reuther for having objected to the story; or the fact that President Eisenhower has placed power in the hands of such a big and capable man as Charles Wilson.

Knowing how touchy labor was, especially the branch represented by Reuther, Wilson should have known that he would have his hand called by Reuther and therefore he had no business going out of the way to tell the CIO just what he thought of the whole kit and caboodle. Wilson knows better than any other man that capital cannot exist without labor; and labor should have been convinced years ago that it could not survive without capital. It takes the two to make a team and to get the job done.

"You're in the Army Now" and The Army Runs the Entire Show

There is an old, old song, "You're in the Army now."

Cpl. Claude Batchelor of Kermit, found that the Army was no joke. No doubt he learned this fact the hard way before he was taken prisoner by the Reds in Korea.

The Corporal was one of the American soldiers who said they preferred to stay with the Reds, rather than be returned to their homeland. This was not his first mistake. He cooperated with the Reds and squealed on his fellow prisoners. He thought that the Reds would be kind to him because he would cast his lot with them. Alas! Alack! His plans failed. He yearned for the old home town, and for his family. He decided to quit the Reds and return home, where he was given a royal reception by the home folks.

The reception did not last long. He was immediately arrested and was given the life sentence by a court martial. We cannot help feeling sorry for Batchelor. The feeling of all Americans is the same.

Yet, what about the anguish which he brought to other soldiers, by the fact that he told on them—lies perhaps—but nevertheless, he was untrue to the America which had given him birth, and offered him such a grand opportunity for success!

Had the Reds not lied to him, perhaps Batchelor would not have returned home to face the scorn of the Army and of his fellow soldiers.

Who knows!

Incompetency Is Opposed by Plainview Paper Due to Election

H. S. Hilburn of the Plainview Evening Herald devoted space to a thoughtful editorial on incompetency in high places.

In this editorial Hilburn called especial attention to the kind of public officials which were being elected and the kind of service which the public was receiving. "Somebody is going to get mighty sore about this lambasting. The hit dog howls," was his concluding sentence.

The first place, it is the voters who elect incompetent public officials.

In the second place, Mr. Hilburn should beware of "dog" reference, since the story on dogs by Secretary Wilson brought on such a "howl."

In the third place, we are really amazed that so little trouble has arisen both in public and private institutions, because of the incompetency shown by all of us in the every day run of public life.

National Bible Week Should Be A Good Time to Read the Book

This is National Bible Week.

It will be a good time for each individual to get down his Bible; dust it off, if he has not been studying it very much; and read the passages which are more or less familiar to every one of us.

Many of us have not read the Bible through completely for a number of years, and the benefits to be gained from a thorough knowledge of the Bible and its lessons, are so great as to make this re-reading well worthwhile.

In fact, life's problems today are little different from those of the times of the Bible, and a study of the Bible will do more to help you meet these problems and arrange your life satisfactorily than anything else we know of.

Democrats Placed in Unhappy Light of Being Public Spenders

Frankly we believe that the Democratic party will probably be in charge of Congress after the November election, due to the promises being made by the candidates.

We are in the give-away age. Every Democratic candidate promises more, for less. Every candidate promises to increase the functions of government, but reduce taxes. The government is now $272 billion in the red, and going in red deeper day by day. All of us have the idea that the "rich guys will have to pay" forgetful that the rich are long time gone, and a general sales tax is next on the program.

It is ridiculous, but the Democrats must bear the blame for this spending.

President Eisenhower is personally acceptable to a majority of the people, but he is not in control of his party, and the spenders are in control of the federal government in Washington.

Those who have been waiting for cooler weather will soon get it, and pay for it, in the form of heating bills.

Editorials Are For the Sole Purpose of Making People Think

In writing editorials, commenting and drawing conclusions on current events, every editor is charged with a very grave responsibility. There are many different styles of writing editorials, and the reader is entitled to know something about them and something about editorial policy.

In the first place, there is the free-swinging editor, who has a solution for every local, national or international problem. This editor knows all the answers, and always has the correct course of action, in his little or large town, at his fingertips.

Of course, this is an impossibility even though this editor may carry with him a majority of his readers, simply because he spends more of his time getting acquainted with the facts, and details a good case behind every argument he presents.

The average reader does not have the time to refute such an array of evidence, nor is he informed to an extent to which he could see through the one-sidedness of such editorials.

Another editor is one who tries honestly to present both sides of controversial issues and outlines general recommendations or expresses an opinion in favor of a general course of action. This type of editorial does not carry with it the solution to all of the day's problems, nor does it usually include sensational attacks on persons or organizations or parties, which some people like so much.

Today, most sober-minded editorial writers exercise every care to bring to readers educational and informative editorials.

The Canyon News offers the reader information and opinion which is designed to help him form his own conclusions. We do not attempt to do the thinking of the reader in our editorials.

If you will read these editorials and the news columns, and take advantage of other sources of information, you will get enough facts and enough of a news presentation to form your own conclusions. In any democracy, that is what is needed and although the editor's opinions are expressed, for your information, it is not an attempt to convince you of anything, or to make you believe what someone else believes.

Your duty as a voting citizen is to form an opinion of your own, based on a fair presentation of news events and facts, and this is the purpose of informative and educational editorial columns today.

Objections Raised About the Attitude The News Editorials

The Canyon News has received two objections during the last week when we advocated the defeat of all eleven amendments to the constitution which are being voted upon November 2.

One reader asked why we objected to the change in teachers retirement to fit more people. As a matter of record we are not opposed to this provision, except that when the bars are let down in one place it is so easy to let them down in other places.

Another reader asked if we opposed the vote being extended to service men without payment of a poll tax. No, we have no objections to waiving the poll tax as it will not be long until this requirement is entirely abolished. The trouble with all of the amendments is that they are so poorly drawn that they must be subjected to court interpretation, and the courts will then be at liberty to do as they please with these amendments.

For instance, take the establishment of the State Building Fund: Another amendment provides that 5 cents of the constitutional levy for Confederate pension would go for buildings in state colleges for 30 years. As soon as these 30 years are over, there will be a golden opportunity for the people to authorize the transfer of all Confederate pensions to the State Building Commission. As a matter of fact the state has spent enough for rent to build an adequate office building, if the money appropriated for rent had been invested in a state office building. We are interested in protecting the interest of the colleges, and not in building more construction in Austin.

So far as the other amendments are concerned, each one has supporters who may or may not be active in seeing that they are adopted. All may be defeated, or all may be carried; the courts will have the privilege of placing its approval on the measures. They are all badly drawn, as we view them.

Jack Stricklin Says a Piece About the Political Situation

Jack Stricklin, publisher of the Terry County Herald, Brownfield, takes a pot shot at The Tulia Herald and The Canyon News over the recent Democratic primary.

Old Jack is right and wrong. The Canyon News took up the fight for Governor Shivers, while the Tulia publication was a staunch supporter of Ralph Yarborough.

The only objection that The News has to the Tulia publication is the fact that it keeps pointing to the fact that Yarborough received so many votes—but ignores the fact that the Governor received 92,000 more votes than Yarborough. Frankly when the publisher of The Tulia Herald goes through as many political fights as the Newsman and carries as many scars of losing battles, he will learn that it does not pay to carry on a losing fight, even for the Governorship of Texas.

After November 2nd there will be little doubt in the minds of political leaders whether the present Administration's labor and farm programs are popular or not.

The Christmas Season is rapidly approaching, and the smart housewife will do her shopping this month and the next, mostly right here in Canyon.

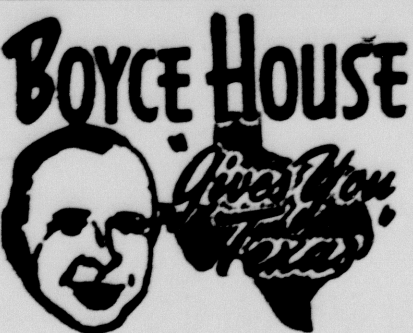

The news that Marilyn is seeking a divorce probably surprised more people who were expecting as much than any recent event on record.

Read a good book every month if you want to improve your mind (which few people try to do)—and we don't mean the best-sellers.

As soon as a local citizen does something to win national recognition, he suddenly has a lot of friends he didn't know he had.

Add life's nuisance: The perennial playboy of fifty who "lives it up" too much at every football game.

The idle housewife is not the average housewife, but there are plenty of them, nevertheless.

Here's a little poem by an unknown writer which is called "Tell Him Now."

If with pleasure you are viewing Any work a man is doing, If you like him or you love him, Tell him now.

Don't hold your approbation Till the parson makes oration And he lies with snowy lilies O'er his brow.

For no matter how you shout it, He won't really care about it, He won't know how many tears drops you have shed.

And he can not read his tombstone when he's dead.

More than fame and more than money

Is the comment kind and sunny And the hearty, warm approval by a friend;

For it gives to life a savor, And makes you stronger, braver, And it gives you heart and spirit to the end.

If he earns your praise, bestow it; If you like him, let him know it; Let the words of true encouragement be said;

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

Senate friends of Joseph McCarthy are studying a plan to move for censure of 15 to 20 members of the Senate who, they are convinced, have assumed attitudes comparable to those for which it is proposed that Senator McCarthy be censured.

Puerto Rican Nationalists, who tried to shoot President Truman and who shot up the House of Representatives, continue to be active and a threat to the President's safety. Neighbors of the President in Denver report that a Puerto Rican was picked up recently in the alley back of the Doud home where the President stayed.

President Eisenhower several days after the Watkins Committee's censure report on Senator McCarthy had been filed, was heard to ask an aide: "What's in it?"

Mr. Eisenhower, despite more than two months of intensive effort, did not succeed in improving his golf game to the extent he had expected during his Denver vacation. Two more golfing vacations at Augusta, Ga., are planned before the year end.

The President, all through the 1954 political campaign, has been unwilling to warm up to the suggestions of the Republican Party's practical politicians that it would take active political work on the part of the White House to assure a victory.

The White House staff will face a number of important changes if Republicans should fall behind in this year's elections. Members of Congress all along have been highly critical of White House ideas of what constitutes good political strategy.

Richard Nixon, Vice President, is bearing the political load for the President in this campaign. Mr. Nixon, who now is closely aligned with the so-called "liberal wing" of the party, has his political fortunes involved somewhat in the election outcome.

Vice President Nixon was on the phone with Governor Charles H. Russell, of Nevada, three days in a row insisting that no stone be left unturned to avoid a November election to replace the late Democratic Senator Pat McCarran. The aim was to fill the post by appointment and thus assure the Republicans another Senator without gambling on an election.

Homer Ferguson, Michigan Senator, is in some political trouble because of unemployment and farm price declines. Democrats, who had about given up hope of picking up a seat in Michigan, now count their chances as even.

J. Strom Thurmond, who ran for President on a States' Rights ticket in 1948, is being given an even chance to win the Senate seat in South Carolina with a write-in vote. There is heavy political fire on the regular Democratic organization in that State.

Politicians are reporting from the corn belt that the decline in the price of hogs from $28 a hundred pounds a few months ago to around $18 a hundred pounds now is not helping the party in power.

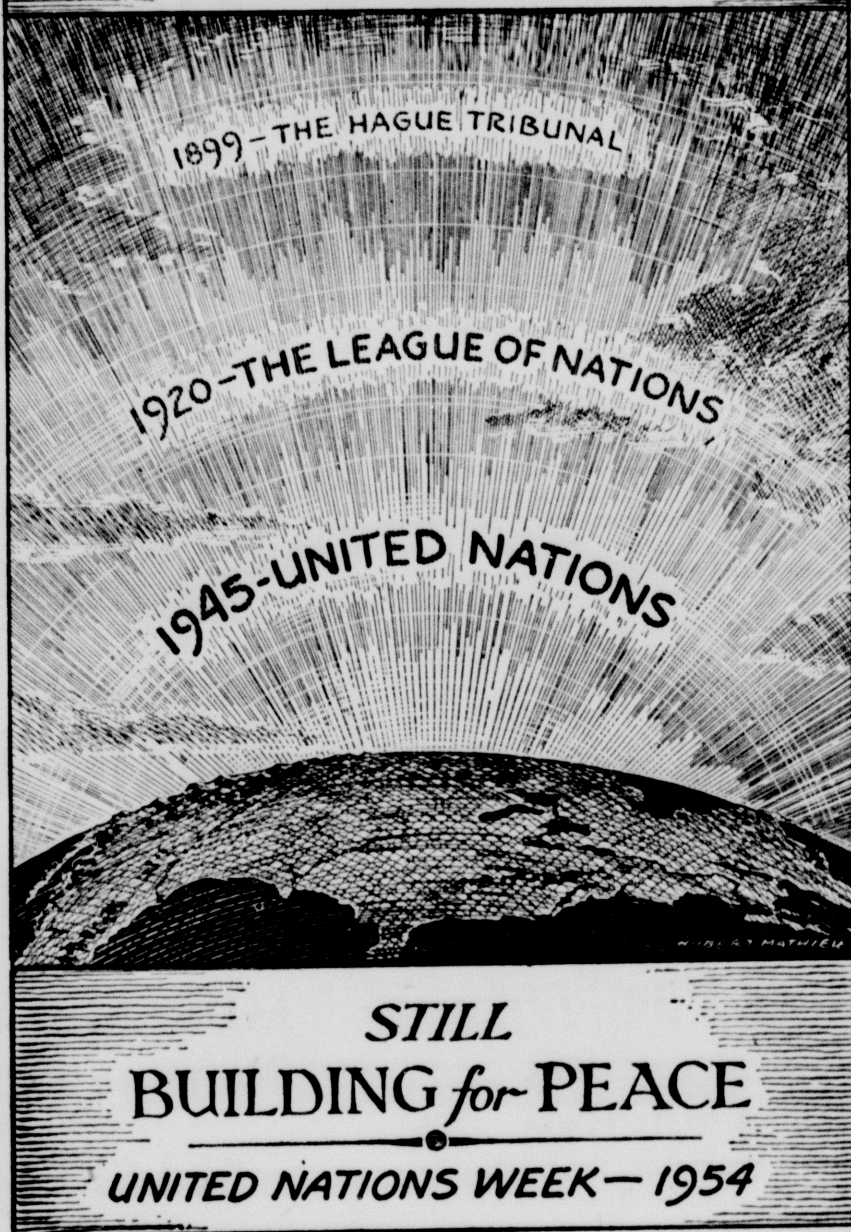

Harry Byrd, Virginia Senator, will take the chairmanship of the powerful Senate Finance Committee if Democrats win control of the Senate in November 2 voting. Walter George, Georgia Senator, will take chairmanship of the highly important Foreign Relations Committee, giving up the Finance post so that Senator Byrd, for the first time in his Senate career, can head one of the principal law-making committees.

Dancing School Opened by Mrs. Ethel Mullins

La Duchesse Studio, a new dancing school under the personal instruction of Mrs. Ethel Mullins, was opened in Canyon on October 4.

Mrs. Mullins is a well qualified teacher, having received many prizes and honors in both stage and ballroom dancing for several years. In addition to regular classes in these types of dances, special attention will be given to posture, proper carriage, and ballroom ethics.

At an early age of three, Mrs. Mullins was taught to dance by standing on her brother's toes. By using a mirror, she later taught herself practically every type of dance known. One of the first musical comedies produced in the United States, starred Mrs. Mullins as the leading lady of a ballet troupe consisting of 300 dancers. She was selected at the age of 14 by Frankie Terrell Young, New York City playwright and producer, to do this lead role. Many stage experiences have been hers since then.

"The Duchess" has taught dancing off and on for several years and has been requested many times by former students to open a studio in Canyon.

One of the most artistic forms of recreation and enjoyment is dancing. In some European countries this is a required subject in social education. Modern psychologists are now recommending music and dancing for physical as well as mental therapy. "The psychology of dancing" will be applied to those who are in need of special attention. (Personal counseling will be available to those who are timid or self-conscious).

Many persons who are physically handicapped have found the music and dance combination one of the most beneficial forms of the improvement of muscle control.

For appointment or additional information call Mrs. Mullins at 5-3194 or visit her one mile east of the college on the Palo Duro highway from 6 to 9 in the evening.

BRIDE-ELECT FETED With Courtesy

Miss Helen Raef, sister of the bride, secured names for the guest book. Miss Sylvia Raef, another sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl.

Attending were Misses Margaret Friemel, Marcella Prizlas, Anna Buecker, Betty Hoffman, Mary Jansen, Romilda Gerber, Mary Fischbacher, Riya Wilhelm, Helen and Sylvia Raef and Mesdames Carl Frische, Jack Brandt, J. L. Irbeek, Geo. Raef, Lewis Raef, Chas. Raef, Gerald Hatfield, Carl Hartman, Sr., Burdette Berres, and Elmer Hartman.

Sending gifts but unable to attend were Misses Estella Friemel, Anna Hoffman, Lucy Raef, Elizabeth Raef, Margie Irbeek, Opal Raef, Tillie Fischbacher, Betty Higgins, Jo Ann and Peggy Alford.

At first glance around the gallery one is impressed by the sense of light in almost every canvas. In the landscapes, whether in his native moors and lochs of Scotland, or in the sun-drenched mesquite and shirney of West Texas pasture land, that same quality of light is there, whether it be the brilliance of a southwestern wheat field of the subtle delicacy of sun touching young cottonwood leaves, or sun rays streaking dramatically through clouds over Loch Ness.

Light, with delightful variations is ever present in these paintings. It is light and subtle modeling that make his portraits live, as personalities with reality.

In a sense, his works are conservative, in that the portraits are recognizable; but even more important, they are works of art. They are fine compositions, and exhibit a master's craftsmanship in his use of paint and color. But the quality which gives them that charm and human interest is their sensitivity to human character and personality, or to the atmosphere of a place.

The large canvas called "The Waitress" is so characteristic in posture, of the girl drawing coffee, that it says "waitress" quite universally.

It is most refreshing to see some ranch scenes which are so completely characteristic of cow man and horse, and yet so lacking in tedious details. He puts down so little, but so little is so right, that the observer enters in most readily with memory and imagination to complete the picture.

If you observe closely, you can not miss a sense of humor, especially in such canvases as the one named "Friday." The large rocks around a blue pool in the shadow of a monastery are thickly populated with black clad monks, all diligently fishing. Also in his "Trial of Mary Stuart" you may be aware of a hint of fun-poking in the attitudes of a supercilious court and a very real queen.

In such canvases as "Windy Day" and "Red" do to earth quality and complete absence of affectation link them to the genre paintings of the 17th century French and Dutch masters, although their color is modern.

These paintings are sensitive, sincere comments upon either the beauty or the whimsicality of our society and environment on two sides of the Atlantic ocean. They are stated without any showing off, but with modesty and insight. A good painting, like a good speech, is brief and to the point, having the modesty to accredit the audience with intelligence to read between the lines, or supply any necessary details for a personal interpretation. Here is an artist who has been willing to work and experiment for years, until he is now able to capture some of the beauty and significance of things around us. It is most entertaining to discover if for ourselves, in his paintings.

About 120 people called during the evening to celebrate the opening. The exhibit will remain in the museum until the 28th of October and then will be shown in two other cities. Some of the pictures are for sale.

Gene and Leavena Davis are the new managers of the Lakeside Drive In on the Dallas highway out of Amarillo.

President Eisenhower Has Fight On Hands to Hold Congressmen

WASHINGTON: The election battle is in full swing, now that it's known the Senate won't meet until after the November 2nd vote, in every section of the country. Vice-President Richard Nixon is leading the Republican effort, and Adlai Stevenson the Democratic.

As of right now the Democrats are ready to pick up gains. Even some Republicans admit as much. This is not necessarily because most of the American people feel that the GOP Administration has bungled everything, but mainly because the voter tends to take his beefs out on the party in power in elections.

There are also a number of jobless workers who voted Republican in 1952 are ready to change sides. Maybe they would have balked had the Democrats stayed in control; now that farm prices are even lower, though, they are going to protest—against the party in power.

There are also a number of jobless voters. Their protest will be, once again, against the Republicans. The major accomplishments of the present regime will be more often overlooked than the hardships now being endured by some. Peace, stability, and lowered government costs, together with expanded programs in several fields, will win some votes, but not as many — perhaps — as irritants will lose.

One of the key factors, which might upset the present trend is business, and what it does in the next four weeks. The outlook is not for any sudden upsurge. The Senate race is likely to be closer.

The Watkins Committee recommendation to censure Wisconsin's Joe McCarthy dulls the ardor of McCarthy's forces, since the committee was composed of three Democrats and three Republicans. Altogether, the Republicans, facing an off-year tradition, are bucking a heavy tide as of now.

If the President is confronted with a divided Congress, or even a Democratic Congress, in 1955, it will probably affect his decision whether to run again in 1956. A Democratic Congress would almost certainly repeal the new flexible price support program for farmers and Ike would have to veto it or sign a bill different in principle from one he has just signed.

A Democratic Congress would change other things, but not much in the way of foreign policy. Ike would have a long series of domestic difficulties with a Democratic Congress and his program would no doubt bog down seriously. This might induce him to lead a comeback fight in 1956. The President isn't known to take defeat in anything lightly.

The picture can change, of course, but it is now only about a month until voting time, and it will have to change quickly if it is to preserve the Republican majority—according to most observers.

There is new speculation that some of the new cars for 1955 will be cheaper. This follows announced reductions in the prices of two independently-produced cars. Yet the Big Three deny American buyer will instead get more car for his money this year. The auto companies are laying plans based on bigger sales volume in 1955 than was enjoyed this year. If that prospect does not materialize, lower prices will be almost certain.

THAT IS THE DIFFERENCE

Junior was being chided for his low grades. Little Robert, who lived a few doors away, was held up as an example.

"Robert doesn't get C's and D's, does he?" asked his father.

"No," Junior admitted, "but he's different. He has very bright parents."

A TEMPERATE DRINKER

The bar was crowded with Martini drinkers. After quite a few rounds, one of the customers suddenly staggered, turned and fell flat on the floor. "That's what I like about Joe," remarked one of his companions, "he always knows when he's had enough."

HE MUST BE NUTS

Asylum Warden: "If I give you your freedom, will you leave women and liquor alone?"

Inmate: "I sure will."

Warden: "You'd better stay here, you're still crazy."

"Does your orchestra ever play requests?"

"Yes, what would you like them to play?"

"Pinochle."

A farm boy said to his brother, "Reuben, how could you get a girl to marry you?"

Reuben answered, "Well, if she don't want to, you can't; but if she does, there ain't hardly no way to prevent it."

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN: Governor Allan Shivers has lashed both Republican and Democratic national parties for refusal to let the South take a full share of determining party policy. Shivers' criticism, delivered in a speech at a testimonial dinner for Louisiana Governor Robert Kennon at New Orleans, singled out no particular party as major culprit.

For too long the South as a region has been "insulted and degraded by national parties and their leaders," he said.

However, he served notice on the Democratic party that it must get in the middle of the road to win southern favor.

Shivers appealed to people in all 48 states to join in defending "the last great safeguard of individual liberty" through supporting local self-government over powerful central government.

On Ballot

Gerald Weatherly of Rio Grande City, refused a place on the Nov. 2 ballot by Secretary of State C. E. Fulgham, has seen the decision reversed by the Supreme Court.

A writ of mandamus ordering that his name be certified for placing on the ballot was granted Weatherly by the Court.

He will oppose Sam H. Burris of Alice for District Attorney in the turbulent Seventy-ninth district covering South Texas' George Parr famous Duval County.

Fulgham had rejected Weatherly's application "because so many of the 560 signatures on petitions were invalid that not enough remained for Weatherly to qualify."

Industrial Activity

Texas' industrial business is picking up while farm income is declining.

Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, said the low farm income was due to months of continuous drought faced by farmers and ranchers.

However, he reported that the "high level of Texas business has been maintained by expanding industrial activity."

The Bureau's business index for the state showed a 2 per cent decline in August from July. August totals were 7 per cent better than August, 1954, Dr. Stockton said.

DWI Law

Texas' motorists now face a tougher penalty for driving while intoxicated.

A Court of Criminal Appeals ruling has labeled unconstitutional the part of law that let a presiding judge, at his own discretion, commute a jail sentence handed out in DWI cases.

Minimum punishment now is a mandatory three-day jail sentence and a fine for DWI convictions.

Gas Firms

A five-year-old suit against ten oil companies for anti-trust violation has been ordered for trial by the Supreme Court.

Charges were made against the firms in 1949 by former Attorney General Price Daniel. Daniel alleged that the ten companies violated Texas antitrust statutes by upping wholesale gas prices several times after federal price controls expired in 1946.

Defendants are Arkansas Fuel Oil Company, Cities Service Company, Continental Oil Company, Gulf Oil Corporation, Humble Oil and Refining Company, Magnolia Petroleum Company, Sinclair Refining Company, Phillips Petroleum Company, Standard Oil Company and the Texas Company.

Toll Roads

Prospects of Texas' first two toll roads have faded from view with a Supreme Court decision that the highways, to be built and owned by private firms, would be taxable.

Attorneys for the Texas Turnpike Company which had planned a toll road from Dallas to Houston, and the Sam Houston Turnpike Corporation, planning a Dallas to San Antonio route, told the court the projects could not be realized without tax-exemptions.

Insurance

Insurance men have been warned that a move to place insurance under federal control may soon become a reality.

State Insurance Commission Chairman Garland A. Smith charged that efforts are being made to turn the "Texas insurance industry into a 'national scapegoat'."

Smith said he was alarmed at the number of letters his office has received in the last few months from Washington political office holders who are laying plans for insurance investigation or advocating central control of the industry.

Many of the groups have continuously singled out Texas for unfair and untrue criticism, he reported.

New Confession

An El Paso farmer has appealed to the state Pardon Board for release from a 15-year prison sentence, the request backed by a confession of another man to the same armed robbery.

Kenneth Massey, now a 19-month prison inmate for armed robbery of a drug-store near El Paso, made his appeal as his attorney handed the confession to the Pardon Board.

The confession is from another convict now under death sentence in Iowa.

SHORT STOPPED

The devil was always challenging St. Peter to a game of baseball, but St. Peter never took him up. Finally, the Dodgers, the Giants and the Yanks all went to heaven. So naturally St. Peter called up the devil.

"Now I'll play you that game of baseball," he said.

"You'll lose," said the devil. "You'll lose!"

"What makes you so sure we'll lose?"

"Because," laughed the devil, "We have all the umpires down here."

Chinese Nationalist planes continue to pound the Chinese mainland, sinking a 1,000-ton oil tanker and damaging three gunboats.

STARS IN YOUR EYES

An American and a Dutchman were talking. "What does your flag look like?" asked the American. "It has 3 stripes," replied the Dutchman, "red, white and blue. We say they have a connection with our taxes: we get red when we talk about them, white when we get our tax bills, and pay 'til we're blue in the face."

"That's just how it is here," commented the American, "only we see stars, too."

OFFICER MATERIAL

A small boy, leading a donkey, passed a naval base. A couple of sailors, wanted to have some fun with the boy.

"Why are you holding on to your brother so tightly, sonny?" said one of them.

"So he won't join the Navy," the youngster replied without blinking an eye.

United States Navy Band Will Play Two Concerts at West Texas State

The United States Navy Band, "The World's Finest," will be presented in two concerts here at West Texas State College Nov. 4, in the first of a series of four special programs. A matinee performance is sponsored by the WT Buffalo Band.

Admission to the evening performance will be by season ticket only, and a few season tickets will be available to the general public at $5 each. Admission to the matinee concert by the Navy Band is 75 cents. Other programs during the season will be Soulima Stravinsky, pianist, Jan. 17; Nora Wain, famed author and lecturer, Feb. 14; and a Victor Herbert Festival, featuring Robert Rounseville, March 7.

The United States Navy Band came into existence on March 4, 1925, when President Coolidge signed a special act of Congress recognizing the band as the permanent representative of the Navy. Yet, the musical lore and legend of the Navy dates back to the beginning of the military organization itself.

The pay-table of the Navy Register first records a naval band in 1838, when it listed a band consisting of a band-master, four first class musicians, and one second class musician.

World War I gave real impetus to Navy music, for the people wanted music and the soldiers and sailors wanted music, so the government gave them music with bands, stirring patriotism from coast to coast.

It was during World War I that a 21-piece band, known as the Navy Yard Band of Washington, D. C., began to popularize itself for official occasions. More and more, this little group of musicians, dressed in the regular seagoing uniform of American sailors, found itself called upon to welcome distinguished visitors and to play for official functions. It was recognition of the qualities of the band which brought Congressional action in 1925.

In the fall of 1925, the United States Navy Band left Washington on the first of its annual tours which have been authorized by Congress and approved by the President. In the years that followed, the band has played for audiences throughout the United States and in Canada, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Panama, Cuba, Jamaica, Haiti, and the Virgin Islands.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower, vacationing in the midst of a political campaign, is reported to have been somewhat startled when he was informed that political tides were not running in his favor.

Vice President Richard Nixon is strengthening his position greatly in the Republican Party by his campaigning. Several top Republican leaders in Colorado, for example, regard Mr. Nixon as prime presidential timber, and a possible nominee in 1956 if Mr. Eisenhower steps aside, or in 1960 if the President decides to run this time.

Herbert Brownell, Attorney General, was believed to be the first choice for appointment to the Supreme Court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson. A judge on one of the circuit courts of appeals was widely considered next in line. Considerable pressure developed to will the vacancy with a man of judicial experience.

Thomas E. Dewey, retiring Governor of New York, is said to be uninterested in a Supreme Court appointment. The New Yorker's friends say that Mr. Dewey is determined on a period of private life and private activity before venturing again into public service.

Herbert Hoover, Sr., was foremost among Republican advisers who urged President Eisenhower to take an active part in the congressional campaign. Mr. Hoover retold with considerable effect his own experience as a President dealing with a hostile Congress.

Representatives of Pakistan have impressed American military officials with their readiness and willingness to accept responsibilities in mutual defense. They are reported to quibble less than any other foreign group that has come to the United States to work on defense projects with this country.

Congressional investigations of Communism and subversion stand a good chance of being consolidated into the hands of a single joint committee if Democrats control the next Congress. The various committees now engaged in that activity would either be abolished or have their powers curtailed.

Secretary John Foster Dulles' desire to keep foreign policy out of this year's election campaign is one reason why the State Department has delayed publishing the background record of the Yalta Conference. Plans now are to publish the facts shortly after the returns are in.

A decision in the security case involving John Paton Davies, Jr., a Foreign Service officer of the State Department, is expected to be made known shortly after the November election. Announcement of the decision is said to have been withheld in order to avoid stirring up old antagonisms and perhaps bringing up a new issue.

The U. S. Secret Service is reported to be up in arms over a Hollywood-made movie that deals with a fictional attempt on the life of a U. S. President. The Service was not consulted before the picture was made. The Service traditionally has opposed any portrayal of assassinations.

Employees of Central Intelligence Agency are annoyed by investigations now going on into the Agency's activities. The inquiries are headed by military men and are being staffed largely by military officers. There has long been some bitterness between military and civilian intelligence agents.

American officials are told that

Germany's arms industry is not going to be back in production overnight even if a go-ahead signal is given on rearmament. One German industrialist, who made tank treads before World War II, says that both his machinery and his foremen for such production now are gone, and that it might take three years to get the plant back in shape.

Sir Winston Churchill, approaching 80, finds now that he must limit his reading, as well as his general activity, to carry on as Britain's Prime Minister. He gets many oral briefings so as to avoid undue strain on his eyes.

Anthony Eden, Britain's Foreign Minister, is regarded as a sure bet to become Prime Minister some day. Sir Winston Churchill has clearly designated Mr. Eden as his successor and has reassured the Conservative Party about the Foreign Minister's health. R. A. Butler, Chancellor of the Exchequer, evidently must wait his turn as second in line.

Pierre Mendes-France, the French Premier, has not raised his stature much with American officials in Paris even though he got a vote of confidence from Parliament. According to one U. S. diplomat, the Deputies said, in effect: "You have made a good start. We approve what you have done so far. Now go out and get us everything else that we want."

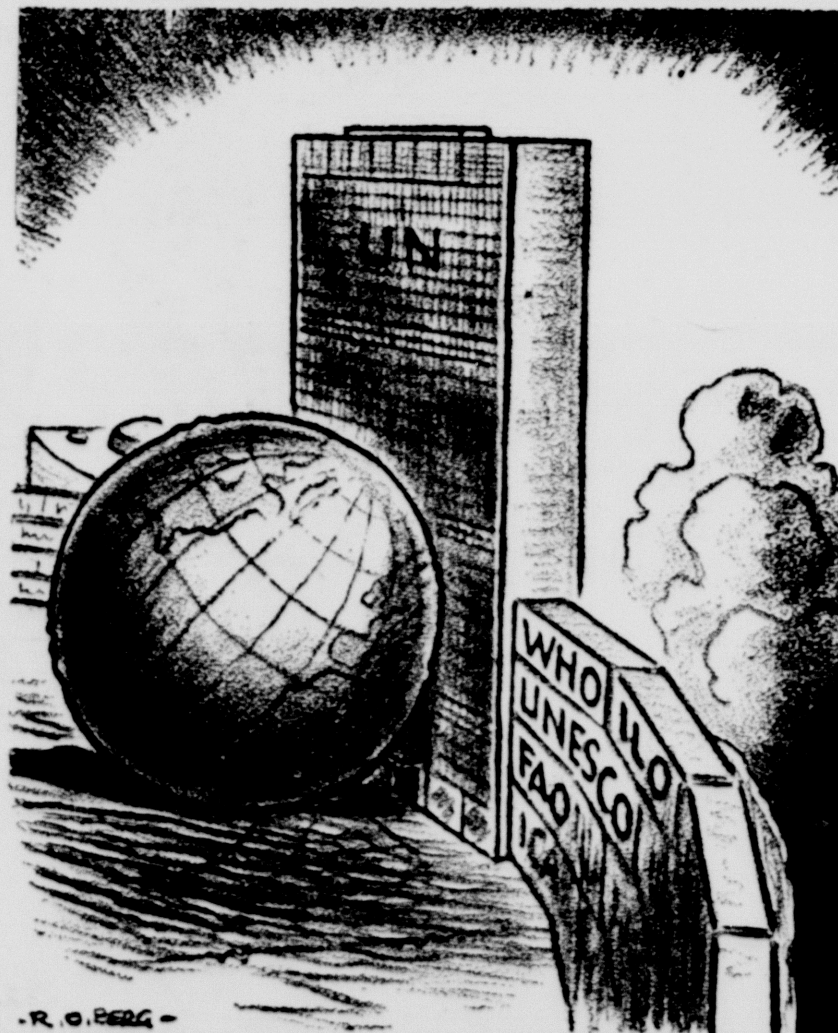

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Myers of Lubbock spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. W. S. Myers. When they returned home Sunday they carried Mrs. Myers to Plainview where she spent the night with her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Price, who brought Mrs. Myers home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. McCarter returned Sunday from Houston where they accompanied their son, Barry, and his family. Mr. McCarter says that it is terribly dry in that area, with trees dying from the want of moisture.

George Nance was taken to Dallas Sunday by Mrs. Nance, W. T. Oliver, and Glenn Dowlen. He went through the clinic Monday and will undergo surgery on his lung the latter part of this week.

Around the Town . .

(By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick)

"The third day, which was his birthday he made a feast." — Genesis 40:20. A birthday wish I'd send you . . . May you enjoy the work you do . . . May you make one new friend each day . . . And find time in your work for play . . . May you give thought and care to health . . . And save some from each bit of wealth . . . May you be gentle and employ . . . New ways to bring your loved ones joy . . . Each of these wishes that I send . . . Originates with you, my friend. —Julien C. Hyer.

Mrs. J. A. Hill was able to leave the Neblett Hospital Thursday after an illness of several weeks. She is much improved and would enjoy seeing her friends.

These new dial phones are wonderful and much more convenient but we should wait longer on our calls. A. O. Thomas, District Manager, in a talk he gave at Rotary said we should wait until the phone rings ten times before hanging up. That only takes a minute and if a person is busy or some distance from the phone it takes that long to get to the phone. Also, it takes less of your time to wait than to ring again later.

"He that hath mercy, happy is he." —Proverbs 14:21

"It is better to bring a cheap bouquet To a loving friend this very day. Than a bushel of roses, white and red, To lay on his casket when he is dead." —Author unknown.

Bob Wear of Hereford says: "Life for all of us will be so much better if we take time to express our appreciation of others to them."

Mr. Wear is minister of the Church of Christ in Hereford.

Senora Maria Lusía Caturia, a highly cultured Spanish lady, spent three months in the United States visiting in our homes and reached this conclusion about our American way of life: "One is supposed to perceive that the characteristic American thing is the automobile, but it is not so."

"The characteristic American thing is the young housewife. 'How much she does, wholly without servants—her house so clean, her children so well cared for, her meals so quickly and skillfully prepared, and herself so charming!'"

"How is it contrived? In Europe, they would say that it was thanks to the American machinery, but I think otherwise. I think the American housewife has done more than master machinery. I think she has mastered time."

Then a young Swedish writer, after visiting our homes, reached this conclusion about our way of life: "In Europe as in the Far East, the world is still a man's world. In the United States, it is the family's. Cooperation in the spirit of mutual respect is the passport, men and women together achieving a domestic happiness new in the history of civilization."

"All this emphasis on the architecture of your home, its furnishings, color scheme, garden around it and food served in it are indicative of your philosophy of daily living, and you have made an art of it."

"It is not Oriental, nor is it European; it is strictly your American contribution to the world."

How refreshing to find an European who looks at us and sees the beauty of our daily way of life.

the importance of the young housewife and the good life she helps her family to enjoy through her energy and intelligence.

Mrs. Alfred Bellah underwent surgery at Neblett Hospital Thursday and is doing nicely. She will have to be in the hospital for about a week, returning home tomorrow.

Bishop Oxnam has stated that in colonial days the number of Americans belonging to Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths was only 5%, whereas our church members now approximate 59%. Church unity is also increasing. This is a healthy sign.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves has as her house guests her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Leonard of Rock Island. Mrs. Reeves took them out to watch the barbecuing for Homecoming at the college. This was their first experience with barbecuing.

Mrs. R. D. Lowry who lives at 2009 5th Ave., planted an avocado seed about the middle of last May and today it is a plant three feet tall with beautiful green leaves, some of which are 11 inches long and five inches wide. Mrs. Lowry said she put the seed in a glass of water so that the seed stood about an inch in the water and when it sprouted she planted it in a pot with just garden soil. It has made a remarkable growth in the five months since it has been planted.

If there is one thing that grandparents enjoy more than any other it is taking the grandchildren to the CIRCUS. Clyde and I always manage to do that and it is interesting to us to see how many grandparents are there with their grandchildren. There are many tales told about the 'shysters and gamblers' who hang around a circus. I have never seen any such activities, rather we had this experience: We had given each of the children 50 cents to spend, the first thing that came our way they wanted to buy was cracker-jack, all purchased a box but when Ann went to pay for hers she could not find her money, all began a search for Ann's money, while searching I noticed the man, he looked to be about 30 years old, had passed on and Ann had her cracker-jack. I asked her who paid for her cracker-jack, she said, the man who was selling it gave it to me. A moment later a man seated behind us, he looked to be a grandparent and he had several small children with him, tapped my shoulder and said the little girl is sitting on her money. Ann stood up and sure enough there was her money in her chair. We had looked there and it wasn't there before. I always will think that man put that money in her chair, because he did not want to see a little girl's pleasure at the circus marred by the loss of her money.

Mrs. Clara B. Long, who is a homemaker teacher at Canyon High School, has a son eight years old and was interested in having a Cub Scout organization that he could belong to so she took leadership of the Cub Scouts Den 3, Pack 97. Thirteen boys around the age of eight and nine are in the Pack. They meet every Tuesday after school.

Last week Mrs. Long took them to the Washington Street Fire Station in Amarillo. To the boys this was a wonderful treat, and one they will long remember.

Belonging to this Pack are: Richard and Kenny Cole, Tommie Sanford, Clarborn Crain, Bill Long, Robert Canada, Jody Sheets, Norman Symrl, Don Freeman, Archie Freeman, Marion Hicks, Bob Begert, and Arthur Haley.

Mrs. Long came to Canyon three years ago from Commerce where she had been teaching in the Commerce high school. She has a B.A. Degree from Mary Hardin at Belton and a B.S. and M.A. Degree from T.S.C.W. Mrs. Long has 75 students enrolled in her homemaker course and then has time to devote to these little boys. She says she is learning so much from the Scout work, she just hopes the boys are learning, too. They are. Two Cub Scouts, Bob Begert and Arthur Haley, were elected to assist Mrs. Long.

A Texas A&M pasture specialist says grass will be healthy and happy all winter long if it's fed a good dose of fertilizer—right now. He says fertilizer now will lead to faster, earlier growth next spring. And most important, he explains, grass can't use fertilizer without water. "Give your yard a good soaking after the plant food has been added."

The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts assembled an exhibit of 'The Fabulous West' for the 1954 State Fair of Texas. For this they borrowed from the Panhandle-Plains Museum at Canyon saddles, bridles, spurs, branding irons, standard cowboy garb and barbed wire collections.

"Often with no danger near, Foolish folk are filled with fear." —Old Mother Nature.

This is the loveliest time of the year in some ways. The yard work is nearly over. Children are in school. The leaves are turning their lovely colors of red, yellow and brown. The nights are cooler, making sleep more restful. The days more pleasant. Best of all soon the frost will end the battle with bugs, worms and weeds, and we can begin planning "BIGGER AND BETTER" things for our gardens next year. This we all know, but will not believe: Our gardens will not be as beautiful as the flower catalogues picture them but we go on hoping.

An Ohio physician predicted that science may at last be on the trail of an insulin which can be taken by mouth instead of by needle. This would be good news indeed for all the diabetics who get stuck with a needle every day.

W. E. Bennetts Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bennett will observe their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 24, from 3 until 5 o'clock at the parlor of the Polk Street Methodist Church, of which they are members.

W. E. Bennett moved to Moore county in 1894 with his family. Mrs. Bennett was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Park, and moved to Randall county in 1893. Mr. Park served as county commissioner for many years, and was succeeded by Mr. Bennett in this office.

Five children were born to the union, one son and four daughters, all living in Amarillo. The Bennetts have 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett extend a most cordial invitation to their friends to come and be with them on this Golden Anniversary Day at the Polk Street Church.

A Tribute To Our Boy Scouts

When Lord Robert Baden-Powell, the Englishman, conceived the idea of the Boy Scouts and, later, our own American, Dan Beard, furthered and promoted the idea here, neither, we suspect, ever dreamed what world-wide fountains of Youth he was putting in action! Today the Boy Scouts are the flower of young manhood in every quarter of the globe. Their deeds are legion. Their clean, manly characters shine forth from their scrubbed faces and the trim uniforms they wear. How very proud we fathers and mothers of Boy Scouts should be! Their merit badges are a symbol of sincerity, eagerness to serve and pride in their organization. God bless them all. They'll be leaders tomorrow!

Just Between You, Me and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

Although Homecoming is over for another year, we should start right now to plan a bigger and better Homecoming for next year. Last year was the first time the Homecoming football game was played at night and this year set another precedent by having the parade in the afternoon. This was also the first year in which the familiar sight of a horse tank for dunking people who weren't wearing western gear was stationed on the square. Formerly the horse tank and the dunking had been restricted to the college campus, mainly the west door of the Administration Building. The square used to be a haven for those who weren't wearing western clothes but this year you couldn't hide there. Oh well, everyone says things are getting tough all over.

The wearing of the western during Homecoming may have given us a new fashion for the men in these parts. Many of the men were wearing string bow ties, that many of the wives tied. You remember these bow ties, they used to be the trademark for politicians in cartoons. It isn't known whether a little politics has rubbed off on the general public or that people simply no longer look upon the string tie as strictly political, in either case a lot of them were being worn last week and they looked nice too. Among those sporting such a tie last week were the boss, Clyde W. Warwick, County Judge Roy Joe Stevens, and County Clerk Tommy Lair.

Tommy Lair said that he was a little late getting his western gear this year. He finally managed to think of it on Saturday and then when he sported the clothes of the wooly west into town, found out that Saturday was optional and that the wearing of the occidental was strictly your own personal choice.

Truett Hull forgot his western gear the first day it should have been worn, and that day it was everything but optional. He almost got dunked in the horse tank but managed to escape out the back door and made it home where he quickly donned the gear that was the difference in the horse tank wets and the atmospheric dries. J. D. Byrd still had his western gear on Saturday and looked right western as he strode straight for the post office.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson probably thought everything was getting tough last week when a number of the national bigwigs severely criticised him for making a speech concerning hunting dogs and kennel dogs. He sort of hit a sore spot with the big labor unions and Walter Reuther lowered the verbal boom on Wilson. Most people got a big laugh out of the childishness of the entire exchange of words and telegrams. Probably everyone at some time or other has used the analogy, "When the cat's away the mice will play," in connection with people. They never once thought of it as calling people rats. Wilson used the same type of analogy and had it twisted so that he was accused of comparing people with dogs. In the future he'll probably let sleeping dogs lie, either kennel or hunting.

There's an old saying that you can always give something away but we're not convinced about the truthfulness of this statement now as we used to be. Had a cold all last week and couldn't find anyone to give it to. Among those we tried to pass it on to included Ruby Lee Vorhees, County Attorney Gene McGlasson, Betty Huffman, and Sheriff L. S. Johnston. Seems as though no one wanted a slightly used cold. Most people already had one.

Noticed where Alaskan elections were a landslide for the Democrats. If it's a sign of things to come the Republicans had a short reign.

Business Lull Hurts Chances of GOP Holding Control of Congress

WASHINGTON: A vast majority of political analysts are now ready to admit the business recovery, long talked, is coming too late to help the GOP in the looming election. This is even evident in White House circles, and is behind the President's recent decision to step up his campaign in behalf of Republican candidates.

A steady stream of reports, from all sections of the country, have kept bringing in the same news: business, slowness, unemployment, and low farm prices are hurting GOP chances. Without President Eisenhower's name on the ballot to bring out the vote, the off-year trend toward the party out of power has taken over.

For a time there was hope in Republican circles that an obvious business spurt would arrive far enough in advance of the November 2nd election to boost Republican chances. In August there was some premature optimism as business activity in several lines perked up a bit.

But things remained slow, generally, and not until recent days have more encouraging signs begin to show up in real substance. With the election only weeks away, this is too late, and the final result of now-reawakening business activities is not yet clear.

In the West, lower prices for both crops and livestock are hurting Republican chances. This is also true in the South, a region which is normally Democratic anyhow, however. The net result is a mass of predictions that the House—and maybe the Senate—will return to Democratic control in January.

That means there will probably be a lame duck session of Congress in November, and a heavy loss of legislative power, committee chairmanships primarily, in January for the Republicans. It may mean White House staff changes and will certainly whittle Senator Joe McCarthy's role to minor proportions in the 84th Congress.

Recent days have cleared some of the war clouds which have hung over Europe for years. There is assurance from Europe—by those who know—that the Nine Power Pact will be approved. That will give West Europe German troops

(the best in Europe) for its defense and make that defense highly probable.

Intelligence reports from inside Russia indicate Red leaders are having plenty to do in their own country and that there are no drastic counter plans in the mill in the event that West Germany is re-armed. The Russians oppose such a move more bitterly than any other thing, but they are not ready to initiate military action to prevent it.

Meanwhile, the rearming of West Germany would increase the West Europe defense force by more than a third, and make it a really big defense organization. It would approximate two-thirds the size of Russian border forces and this strength would carry with it the capacity for orderly resistance against a Russian attack, even if made in considerable strength.

This strength is what President Eisenhower, and his successor, General Alfred M. Gruenther, have been saying was necessary for years—if Europe was to be successfully defended against attack. Present rearmament plans for the West German Army include the building of 12 divisions. Estimated strength of the forces now available to NATO is approximately 30 divisions.

The improvement in the defense outlook in Europe, coupled with the quieted down battle of Quemoy, indicates the Reds are not yet ready to call the hand of the democracies. Earlier intelligence estimates—that the Communists wanted time, especially in the Far East, to build up their power and industrialize—seem to be proving correct.

McCarthy Faces Bleak Session

By STANLEY JAMES

WASHINGTON: Senator Joe McCarthy will lose his committee chairmanship, and many of the headlines he has been getting in the role of Communist-hunter, if the Democrats regain a majority in the U. S. Senate. And the Democratic members of Congress who are in Washington think prospects are bright.

McCarthy is already playing a much reduced role in the Republican party's campaign. Whereas he said a year ago that the big issue in this election would be his Communist-hunting activities, that is not proving to be the case at all.

In fact, he is taking a very inactive part in the campaign, and is heavily engaged in an attempt to try to prevent his colleagues from voting censure of his conduct shortly after the elections—when a special session of the Senate will meet to decide whether to follow the recommendations of a six-member committee, calling for a vote of censure.

Regardless of the censure vote, a Democratic Senate would be a blow to McCarthy, since he would automatically lose all chances of remaining a committee chairman. (There are no Republican committee chairmen when the Democrats are in power and vice versa.)

Without his committee chairmanship, McCarthy would be very limited in what he could do—as a Communist hunter. For one thing, his money would be cut off. For another, he would not be in a position to decide whom to investigate and when to hold investigations.

Without money to operate on, and without the authority to set up committee hearings and investigations, McCarthy would have to rely mainly on press releases. And while he might still give reporters good copy, he would no longer be in charge of any official investigation. Thus the Senator is facing a heavy year.

GENERAL GRUENTHER

General Alfred M. Gruenther, Supreme Allied Commander of the NATO forces in Europe, who is now visiting in this country, recently declared that the United States must improve its techniques and ideological warfare. Unless this nation can increase its power to influence world opinion and thereby preserve the risk of seeing the Soviet Union pick "us off one by one," the General declared.

Buy, Build, Live in Canyon!

As we parked the car near the church last Sunday morning we saw a young business man and his two very young sons leaving. The six-year-old was dancing along the sidewalk, looking in store windows. The five-year-old stood still, working intently on the zipper of his jacket. The father, normally a bundle of energy, waited as if he had all the time in the world.

"He wants to do it himself," he explained. "His brother is just the opposite." We talked a few minutes while the little one worked. As we started away, the boy looked up with a triumphant smile. "I did it!" he shouted.

Even the best of mothers would have had trouble restraining herself, after the first few seconds on a busy street, waiting for a child to conquer a cranky zipper. Fact is, few women could have resisted the urge to rescue the youngster from his jacket troubles. Yet the boy would have been deprived of the real pleasure he got from working out the problem alone.

Why patience ever became associated in people's minds with the female character is a mystery. True, women almost always have "things to do," especially the mothers of very young children. True, the "Sunday morning papa," who gets baby-sitting duty about three or four hours out of the entire week, can spare a little more time and patience for his charges than the mother who works full time at the job the other six days.

Yet we sometimes wonder if a lot of the so-called frustration among teen-agers today doesn't stem from impatience—or hovering—mamas, who never have time to be patient with the do-it-yourself training, either for the child who wants it or the one who leans too heavily on personal attention.

Detroit, Mich. — Seven children in one Detroit family, ranging in age from 2 to 13 years, are hospitalized with diphtheria. Officials of the Board of Health said none of the children had been inoculated against the disease, contrary to general practice.

Third of All Deaths Are Due Heart Disease

AUSTIN: Heart disease is the leading cause of death in Texas declares Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. It takes more lives each year than cancer, accidents or any other cause of death, in fact one third if all deaths are due to heart disease and the toll is rising. It can be curbed if you will have a periodic health examination by a qualified physician and follow his instructions for protecting your heart.

An annual physical examination sometimes brings to light adverse conditions, many of which can be corrected before they cause serious damage. Only a physician can recognize for certain the danger signals of heart trouble, and tell you how to care for yourself.

If your physician tells you to slow down or reduce your weight, to cut down on your heart's work load, heed his advice. He wants to help you take care of your heart and to keep you in good health. There's no replacement possible.

The heart needs good care to stay in good running order. Almost anything you do affects your heart. The food you eat, the stairs you climb, the hours you sleep, the pace you set for yourself, your illnesses, the worries you brood over, the tensions you live under—all affect your heart. These are the patterns of your life. These are what make you tick. These conditions play roles in making your heart the kind of heart it is. And there are indicators to warn you of trouble, if you look for them.

The heart can work at a fast pace, and under handicaps, for a long time, because it draws on its reserve power. But when the reserve power of the heart begins to wear out, you experience some of the symptoms commonly associated with heart disease. You may experience a shortness of breath, pain over the heart or breast bone, swollen ankles, and heavy and uneven heart beats.

Of course at any time, sudden, strong physical exertion will cause a person's heart to beat faster. But if, under ordinary circumstances, you experience any of these symptoms, heed the warning and see your physician. You may

AMERICANO COIFFURE

Here is one interpretation of the infinite number of variations which can be designed within the new AMERICANO hair style trend, created by the Official Hair Fashion Committee, of which Marie is a member.

This is a highly styled and sophisticated translation featuring an extreme interpretation of the new "plateau" effect, a smart complement for the devotees of the Dior silhouette of the season.

Other variations carry Spanish influence or Egyptian reminiscences, all with the AMERICANO trend. Which interpretation is most becoming to each individual is a question of good personal taste and individual requirements, for the AMERICANO must be personally adapted to enhance the individual features and personality of each individual woman.

Note the highly feminine treatment given to the back of the head, where fashion focuses more attention and interest than in many years. The highly feminine treatment and the short hair length are the new "kissable neck line."

Money or Beauty?

Mirror, mirror on the wall, who is fairest of them all? That might be a question you would ask your mirror concerning the 1954 Halloween Queen candidates.

This activity of the annual Halloween Carnival has been criticized somewhat in the past. By the usual procedure of posting the exact votes of each candidate, this activity has grown into more or less a form of gambling instead of a place to vote for the girl with the most poise, beauty, and personality.

In a local, state, or national election, the final results are not announced until all the votes have been counted. It has been decided in CHS that this would be the best policy to follow in selecting a queen this year. Each vote will still be a penny and the candidates will be in the usual southwest corner of the Grade School gymnasium.

When you go to vote for a Halloween Queen, choose wisely!

Museum Interests Science Students

Science students of CHS visited the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum to familiarize themselves with the science of paleontology Tuesday evening, Oct. 12. Jack Hughes, paleontologist of the museum, conducted the group through the museum on a tour of prehistoric figures, explaining where and how various skeletons of the prehistoric horses, mammoth tusk, and large turtle shells were obtained.

Instruction from Mr. Hughes also included the explanation of different types of geologists and their work, some thoughts on prehistoric man and life, and the story of yesterday as told today by the story of the rocks.

Following the visit at the museum the club adjourned to the home of Mrs. Joe Findley, science club sponsor, for a business meeting and social program.

Officers of the Science Club are president, Dovie Keene; vice-president, Bobby Phillips; secretary, LaDonna Keller; treasurer, Jon Cross; program chairman, Bobby Phillips; social committee, Carolyn Brasher and Tanya Hanks.

'Julius Caesar' To Be Shown Here

Why? Why should a movie such as the MGM screen version of "Julius Caesar" be shown October 19-20-21, a show a day at 7:30 in the Olympic Theatre? What is its significance?

"Julius Caesar" is a historical tragedy written by William Shakespeare 350 years back about events that occurred 2000 years ago, yet it holds eminent importance for each person today. Concerned with dictatorship, conspiracy, assassination, demagoguery, and civil war, this drama parallels with problems confronting the modern world.

In the drama, conspirators plot against the overbearing dictator, Caesar, in order to protect the Roman heritage of freedom, thus signifying that the price of freedom is eternal vigilance.

Actors excelling in clarity of diction—Louis Calhern, Marlon Brando, Edmond O'Brien, Greer Garson, Deborah Kerr, and James Mason—have been carefully selected to make this dynamic portrayal of noble Rome and its people intelligible to the American public.

Remember, it is showing October 19-20-21. Don't you miss it!

FHA Feature Payne and Schuette On International Goodwill Program

Promoting international goodwill which is the fifth purpose of the National FHA organization, was the theme of the local FHA meeting held Thursday, Oct. 14, in the cafeteria. Two teachers, Miss Marilyn A. Payne and O. H. Schuette, who both traveled abroad this past summer, were featured on the program.

Miss Payne presented a travelogue of her recent trip through France, Italy, and Switzerland, and showed beautiful slides she filmed on the trip.

Mr. Schuette delighted the group by bringing out one of his hidden talents. He sang "Answer Me My Love" and "The Lorelei" in the native German, accompanied by Miss Ada V. Clark, high school choir director, at the piano.

In order to recognize our own country, the group sang "God Bless America" led by Debra McDonald, song leader, and accompanied by Janet Taylor, pianist.

Gifts were presented to Miss Payne and Mr. Schuette for their part on the program by Marcus Robinson, vice-president. Also Debra McDonald received a gift for being high sales girl for Christmas cards last year. June Davis, president, was presented with a FHA pin with a gavel guard symbolizing her presidency.

Barbara Shepard, program chairman for October, reported on both the individual and group goals set up for promotion of international goodwill. The individual goal is to write to a foreign pen pal and the group goal is to contribute to the national organization of UNESCO and CARE. These contributions support two needy children in foreign countries each year.

Committee reports on National FHA Week, the Homecoming float, and the Area I executive meetings were given by Ann Moore, Nelda Coffee, and Marcus Robinson, respectively.

Refreshments featuring foreign foods of Russian tea, Netherland breads and German whipped cream were served by Cecilia Waters and Virginia Walker.

Mrs. Clara B. Long and Mrs. L. B. Penick, homemaking teachers, are sponsors of the local chapter.

Librarians Stress Defense Measures

Barry Clark gave an interesting book review on Tomorrow by Philip Wiley at the regular business meeting of the CHS Library Club held Monday night, Oct. 11, in the high school library. Tomorrow is a melodramatic plea for civil defense. In the story ten million people died as the result of an atomic war who could have been saved by civil defense measures.

Barry Clark is the newly elected president for the Loula Grace Erdman Library Club which is beginning its fourth year of organization. Theresa Mickey is serving as secretary; Mary Frances Dodson is treasurer; and Beverly Henson is reporter.

Other members are Edwin Boswell, Rita Joyce Grabbe, Virginia Walker, Barbara Shepard, Ina Jo Hughes, Marie Fort, Annie Jean Howard, Sue Reynolds, Avalon Brown, Mary Whealy, Sharon Duncan, Connie Wilkins, and Sandra Michael.

Meeting dates have been scheduled for a night meeting on the second Tuesday night of each month and a meeting at noon on the third Tuesday of each month.

To end the meeting the group participated in games before enjoying refreshments.

Ken Kuykendall and Norris Samuelson were nominated from the floor to run for student body president at the CHS assembly Thursday, called for the purpose of presenting candidates previously nominated by the Student Faculty Congress.

Ken, senior, is a 164-pound tackle on the Eagles' football team and is one of the tri-club captains. Included in Ken's many high school honors are freshman class president, sophomore class reporter, junior class secretary, junior Who's Who, SFC vice-president, NHS member, and FFA secretary. Ken's hobby is sports and his ambition is to graduate from high school.

Norris, senior, plans to study to be a band director at West Texas State College. Among Norris's previous honors are 1952 driver of the year, sophomore vice-president, NHS vice-president, sophomore class favorite, junior Who's Who, and band vice-president. Amateur radio operation is Norris's favorite hobby.

Jamie Airhart, acting SFC chairman until a student body president is elected, introduced Jerry Matzler, secretary-treasurer of the SFC, who presented the names of candidates previously nominated by the SFC. They are seniors, Jimmie Golden and Leroy Burrow, candidates for student body president; juniors, Hubert Green and Ralph Miller, candidates for student body vice-president.

A campaign session will be conducted by the candidates Thursday morning preceding the election to be held Thursday afternoon.

Various campaigning rules were reviewed which include: each candidate will be allowed eight minutes at the campaign assembly; cards, banners and posters may be used for campaigning purposes, providing that they are put up with tape; paint and water color campaigning methods are strictly prohibited.

Night Increases Rate of Accidents Is Official Report

"Night doubles traffic troubles," said Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association.

"This is more than just another slogan," he said. "It's an important truth, and one which pedestrians as well as motorists should keep in mind."

"At night it often is difficult for drivers to see pedestrians in time to avoid accidents," he said. "On the other hand, walkers usually can see the headlights of approaching cars for quite a distance. If they are alert, they often can get out of the path of a car before danger strikes."

Col. Tilley gave four rules that pedestrians can follow to keep safe when they must walk near traffic after dark.

1. Always walk on the sidewalk, not in the road. If you have to walk on roads that have no sidewalks, walk on the left shoulder of the road facing traffic.
2. Cross at intersections whenever possible. At night cross at lighted intersections.
3. Remember, pedestrians in dark clothing are difficult for motorists to see. When walking on a roadway that has no sidewalks, always wear light clothing or carry something white. Better still, carry a flashlight or something made of reflectorized material.

4. Don't trust your judgment too far in estimating the speed of an approaching car by its headlights at night. Never cross a street or highway unless you are absolutely certain you have ample time to reach the other side safely.

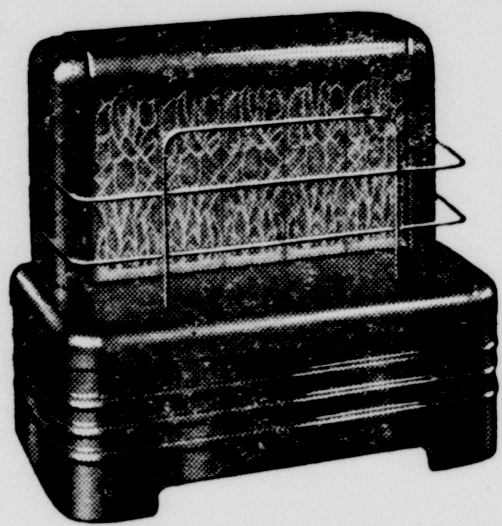

Col. Tilley's comments were made in connection with the night traffic hazards safety program being sponsored in Texas this month by the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Public Safety, and the National Safety Council.

Costume Parade, Window Painting Added to Halloween Activities

Two new features have been added to the Halloween Carnival activities, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. There will be a costume parade and a show window painting contest. There are two divisions in each contest, the first is the first grade through the sixth grade, and the second is the seventh through the twelfth.

For the best costume in each division a prize of $7.50 will be given. Also, $7.50 will be awarded in each of the two divisions in the window painting contest. Those who are interested in taking part in the window painting contest are to apply to Roland Black at the Chamber of Commerce office, on the south side of the square. The window painting will start Saturday morning, Oct. 30.

The parade will form on the sidewalk in front of the high school immediately following the coronation. The parade line will be led by a police escort down Fifth Avenue to the square and in front of the Olympic Theatre, where the judging will begin. The judging committee will be composed of a high school teacher, a citizen appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, and a member appointed by the P.T.A.

Halloween Queen candidates are Ruth Ann Bolton, Charlotte Crain, Theresa Mickey, and Katy Davenport.

Senior class candidate for Halloween Queen is Ruth Ann Bolton. She takes an active part in the FTA, FHA, chorus, Rainbow Girls, and the annual staff. Upon graduation she plans to enter West Texas State and major in business administration.

Charlotte Crain, a well qualified person, is sponsored by the junior class. Charlotte is a member of the FTA, the annual staff, and the chorus ensemble. She has been secretary of the freshman class, SFC historian, and this year SFC assistant editor.

A well known person sponsored by the sophomore class is Theresa Mickey. Theresa is a member of FHA, FTA, Library Club, SFC, and Choral Club. Theresa is also a representative of the SFC.

Katy Davenport is the freshman choice for the honor of Halloween Queen. Katy has been a favorite in the seventh and eighth grades. This year she is a member of the SFC and band. Katy has been outstanding in all of the freshman activities.

Faye Lowery, second winner, depleted the total of $3.95. Third winner was Charlotte Crain. Charlotte took $5.50 from the jar. Jeanine Thomas, fourth winner, collected $4.70. The fifth winner was Melvin Cunningham. Melvin withdrew $7.25.

Nancy Kaye Tomlinson was awarded a camera for the most sales of the first week. Diane Prichard received a ball point pen for the most sales for the first day. Another attraction in the campaign was high salesman. Nancy Kaye Tomlinson topped the record with $301.05.

Prizes will be awarded in the near future.

Rev. Ernst, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Dumas, will speak to youth Monday and Tuesday nights at 7:30 in the Lutheran and Methodist churches, respectively.

Hill Chapel, will feature the installation of officers. The following meetings will begin at 7:30. Rev. Ernst will speak to the student body Tuesday afternoon.

During the rally teen-agers will solicit funds for the Christian Rural Overseas Program, better known as CROP.

Seniors Select Invitations

The senior class, getting ready for graduation, selected invitations in a class meeting at 9 a. m. last Thursday. Examples of invitations were inspected by a committee from the senior class, meeting Wednesday at the fourth period. Three designs were selected from a number of types presented by Mr. Harrison, representative of Southern Engraving Company. The class voted and selected a design, type of paper, and kind of lettering to order. Cards will be selected at a later date.

On Monday, Oct. 11, the class received their proofs and discussed bake sale plans to be launched soon.

Regions of Low Income Show Growth

The best single statistical measurement for comparing economic well-being by regions is per capita income. In 1953 the average for the U. S. was $1,709. This was 217 percent greater than the corresponding figure for 1939.

There is considerable variation, from one region to another, in the level of per capita income and in the percentage change since 1939. However, there is a pronounced tendency for the regions which have been below average to show more rapid growth than other regions.

The Southeast per capita figure still is lowest — $1,159 per person in 1953. But this is the very region in which the percentage growth has been most rapid. Per capita income has very nearly quadrupled since 1939 in the Southeast.

Much the same situation prevails in the Southwest and Northwest. In both regions per capita income is somewhat below the national average but the rate of growth since 1939 is considerably greater than the corresponding figure for the nation as a whole.

At the other end of the scale, the Middle East and Far West have been and remain regions in which per capita income is highest, despite the fact that percentage increase since 1939 has been below the national average. The New England and Central regions have per capita income well above the per capita income for the Southeast and Southwest, but show a smaller percentage increase since 1939.

As a result of the especially rapid growth of the below-average regions the range in per capita income has been sharply reduced. In 1939 the highest figure for the seven regions was 2.3 times the lowest; in 1953 the highest was only 1.7 times the lowest.

Six persons were killed, 46 injured, and property damage totaled $51,009 in rural accidents investigated by Texas Highway Patrolmen for the month of September. The news bulletin released for September also shows that the patrolmen investigated 81 accidents, made 630 traffic arrests which included 289 speeding arrests and 37 driving while intoxicated arrests.

The officers issued 1,482 hazardous violation warnings, worked 3,857 day hours, 2,298 night hours and traveled 75,146 miles.

Fifty-nine of the September accidents occurred on state and federal roads, five on farm-to-market roads, 13 on county roads, and four in small towns of population below 2,500.

Principal cause of September accidents was listed once again as speeding, in second place was driving while drinking. Third greatest cause of accidents was failure to yield right-of-way, fourth was driving on wrong side of road while not passing another vehicle and fifth was careless or reckless driving.

During the month of August the factors causing accidents were speeding, driving while drinking, careless or reckless driving, following too closely, and driving on wrong side of road when not passing another vehicle.

During the month of September of 1953 there were seven persons killed, 35 injured, and property damage amounting to $37,300. In the month of August of this year there were eight persons killed, 44 injured and property damage amounting to $80,058. During the first nine months of this year a total of 60 persons have been killed, 488 injured and property damage amounting to $602,292 as a result of accidents investigated by State Highway Patrolmen.

There are 27 patrolmen in the Amarillo District No. 5 which is composed of 26 Panhandle counties.
